

Special Announcements from San Francisco

November 20, 2014

Greetings from the DAAD Information Center in San Francisco!

In the past you received the San Francisco newsletter quarterly. Each newsletter also included announcements from German universities and their programs. To ensure that you receive the most current information, the university programs will from now on be introduced in a Special Announcements newsletter, leaving the DAAD content for the News from San Francisco newsletter. I hope you find the provided information in this issue useful.

All the best,
Hanni

The School of Integrated Climate System Sciences (SICSS) at Universität Hamburg

Universität Hamburg

DER FORSCHUNG | DER LEHRE | DER BILDUNG

Focus on Climate! Join our M.Sc. program Integrated Climate System Sciences!
The School of Integrated Climate System Sciences (SICSS) at Universität Hamburg, member of the Klimacampus Hamburg, is the only Graduate School which provides you the unique opportunity to combine your study of observing, modeling and predicting the earth system with studies in economics and social sciences. As a result, you will be well prepared for a career as a climate expert!

SICSS offers you a well-structured study program with an internationally recognized Master of Science. You will study with students and renowned scientists from around the world. SICSS offers coursework in the fields of natural, social and economic sciences.

At present, the program allows the specialization in one of following three tracks:

- physics of the climate system
- biogeochemistry of the climate system
- climate related economics and social sciences.

All courses are held in English. Class size is limited to 20 students. Our research oriented study program has been accredited by ASIIN in 2010.

Application period is annually 15 February 31 March; the program starts every year in October.

Interested in this high quality Master`s program? For further information, please visit www.sicss.de or contact Katja Grannis at sicss@zmaw.de.
