Call for Nominations to DAAD Young Ambassador Program

Deadline for submissions is May 18, 2016Find application information at www.daad.org/ambassadors

Do you know of an undergraduate who recently studied abroad or is currently studying in Germany, who would like to share his/her experience? Then consider nominating that student for the DAAD Young Ambassadors Program!

DAAD Young Ambassadors are undergraduate students from North America who have recently studied or interned in Germany and are interested in promoting study in Germany at their home institutions. Each year DAAD recruits students from all over the US and Canada to share with their peers what makes Germany a unique and attractive destination for study abroad. Please forward this opportunity to any students who might be interested.

DAAD Young Ambassadors are responsible for organizing at least one event per semester on their campuses. Additionally, they collaborate with their universities' study abroad offices and other German institutions in their areas to inform their fellow students about educational and research opportunities on offer in Germany. DAAD Young Ambassadors are also available for email inquiries about their respective German host universities, study abroad programs or student life in Germany. To learn more about the current group of Young Ambassadors, please visit: www.daad.org/ya2015-16. All new DAAD Young Ambassadors are invited to New York City in August for an all expenses paid training.

Benefits to your institution by hosting a DAAD Young Ambassador include:

- Increased visibility of study abroad on your campus
- Increased awareness of funding for study abroad
- Vehicle for interdepartmental promotional work

DAAD is currently accepting nominations for the 2016-17 Young Ambassadors from university study abroad and international offices. (Only one student may be nominated per college or university.)

The deadline for submissions is May 18, 2016.

Complete program information, including nomination forms, is available at: www.daad.org/ambassadors.

Bauhaus in Your House - DAAD Photo Contest

2016 marks the 90th anniversary of the iconic Bauhaus in Dessau, which to this day symbolizes one of the most influential schools of art, architecture and design of the 20th century. Bauhaus stood at the forefront of avant-garde modernism, incorporating artistic creativity into the process of mass-production with the goal of experimenting and problem solving for a modern industrial society. This functional approach to design gained popularity around the world, and Bauhaus products continue to be reproduced even today.

Taking this UNESCO World Heritage Site in Dessau as a starting point, DAAD North America is launching a photo contest where we invite you to examine your everyday environment for elements of Bauhaus, whether it be a building, an artwork, housewares, or anything in between. Share a photo of the object and tell us how it represents Bauhaus to you in 3 sentences or less.

All photo descriptions should be in English. German words may be integrated into the text where appropriate. All contestants must be currently enrolled in a North American institution of higher education. DAAD contest rules apply.

A first round of voting will occur via a DAAD-appointed jury based on the quality of the photo and the persuasiveness of its description. Finalists and top-three winners will be determined by a second round of voting from the general public via Wishpond.

First prize: a round-trip airline ticket to Germany (refer to contest rules for maximum value)

Second prize: a GoPro action camera

Third prize: a one-year subscription to bauhaus the magazine of the Bauhaus Dessau Foundation

Contest submission deadline is Friday, May 6, 5pm EDT.
